

WORKSHOP

Learn How to Play Native American Flute as a Spiritual Practice

ANN LICATER
Native American & World Flutes

Beginning Class— Learn to Play Native American Flute as a Spiritual Practice

Connect with your “inner divine musician” in the Learn How to Play Native American Flute as a Spiritual Practice workshop. Ann Licater teaches workshop participants to play the Native American Flute so they can bring out their spirit through an instrument. This is a one-day only BEGINNER level class. No prior musical experience is required. Participants either provide their own 5- or 6-hole Native American-style flute or can purchase one through Ann prior to the workshop.

Space is limited to 12 participants. Pre-registration is required

Ann is a recording artist, featured performer at the World Flute Fest at Carnegie Hall, and a San Jose Chamber Orchestra soloist as a world flutist. She facilitates workshops for Kaiser Permanente Wellness Centers and holds an M.L.A. in Creation Spirituality. Her CD “Following the Call” was nominated “Best Native American Album in 2007 by New Age Reporter.

conscious living center

Location: Conscious Living Center
2400 Wyandotte St. Suite C, Mt. View, CA 94043

Date: May 1, 2010—Saturday

Time: 10:00 AM—3:00 PM

Cost: $125 Class fee payable to Conscious Living Center

Materials: Flute cost $75 + tax payable to Ann Licater

More Info: 650-965-1152 www.ConsciousLivingCenter.org

Register at Conscious Living Center or email classes@fluteforthesoul.com

Ann Licater
Recording Artist

Music relaxes and refreshes body, mind & soul
www.FlutefortheSoul.com

